SoFeminine.co.uk is setting a global challenge to food bloggers to come up with the best food experience. Whether it's an old family secret, an inventive Blumenthal style dish or an undiscovered treasure at your local bistro we want your entries!

The best part is we'll provide you with £50 to buy the ingredients (and no doubt a nice bottle of wine too - though if you'd rather keep the change we won't mind one bit!) or to go out for a meal.

All you then have to do is take us through the dish and share the secret on your blog plus (and this is "the catch" bit) mention that the food section where the winners will be showcased at <http://www.sofeminine.co.uk/home-cooking-recipes-food.html>

We'll be putting on display all our favourites on the site so everyone can get some ideas on how to fill their stomachs in style.

To enter just email Nicholas@sofeminine.co.uk who will furnish you with the cash and you can get going!
